DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-12, drawn to a composition of matter comprising alumina and magnesia-based ceramic grains.

Group II, claims 13-22, drawn to the process for manufacturing said ceramic grains.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The inventions share the technical feature that is defined by the ceramic composition disclosed in claim 1 and also in claim 13. However, in order for this composition to be considered a "special technical feature" and thus be cause for the two inventions to be unified, the composition must be unique and define the contribution that the inventions make over the prior art. In this case, the ceramic composition disclosed in claims 1 and 13 is not in and of itself unique over the prior art, and thus the requirements of unity of invention are not met.

Art Unit: 1709

Evidence of the fact that the ceramic composition of claims 1 and 13 does not define a contribution over the prior art is given by Nikitina et al (US4906255), where fused ceramic grains consisting of corundum (alumina) crystals surrounded by a $\text{MgO-Al}_2\text{O}_3$ spinel are taught, and in particular an example is taught wherein the MgO content of the ceramic is 2.27-2.83% by weight (8-10% of spinel phase. See page 5, table 1, composition 10). This anticipates the ceramic composition of claims 1 and 13. Although Nikitina et al do not teach the impurity requirements of claims 1 and 13, the underlying compositions are equivalent. The importance of keeping the SiO_2 and other impurities to a minimum is well known in the abrasives art. This is stated by the applicant in the written description of the instant application (see Specification, page 4, lines 20-26). It would therefore have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was filed to keep the concentration of silica and other impurities as low as possible in any ceramic composition intended for abrasive use. Thus, the technical feature comprising the ceramic composition of claims 1 and 13 does not constitute a "special technical feature". The requirements for unification of the two inventions are not met, and restriction is required.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1709

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Rejoining practice

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Art Unit: 1709

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112.

Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
